Selectmen's Statement.

On entering upon our duties one year ago, we were obliged to defend a suit at the April term of court, and after a hard contest obtained a verdict for the town. Your appropriation of one thousand dollars for the repair of highways was all expended by the road agent in June, at which date several of the roads had not received the least attention, and we were called upon, with the highway money exhausted, to fulfill the law and answer the demands of a neglected people, which has resulted in the agent requiring more than five hundred dollars above the amount raised.

Our Savings Bank tax was two hundred eighty-seven dollars less than in 1893, which diminished our receipts to that amount. The School Board in their last report recommended economy in purchasing supplies and have asked for $172 30, as shown by receipted bills, being seventy-eight dollars more than in the previous year. The foregoing are the reasons why every dollar of the indebtedness of the town is not paid with a surplus in the treasury.

Respectfully submitted,

Librarian's Report

OF THE SILSBY FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

No lack of interest or appreciation is noticeable. Four thousand three hundred twenty-six books and magazines have been loaned since Feb. 15, 1894, being more than eighty-three each week.

In March last a general invitation was extended for the people to designate the books wanted. Several lists were presented and every request was complied with, provided the publications were in print and obtainable.

A few dollars were expended in May for paint, oil and varnish, for the reason that the building is too valuable to be allowed to fade or decay.

Owing to the extra demands upon the town treasury only one-half of the library appropriation has been expended; simply the amount required by law, two hundred dollars of the fund with the interest has been drawn to meet current expenses, as is shown in the treasurer's report.

An order has been given C. H. Wilson & Co., for ten monthly magazines, and one weekly publication for use during the ensuing year, as no one seems willing to be deprived of this branch of the library.

The entire stock of books belonging to the Farmers' Club in South Acworth has been given to the institution; also several volumes of Frank Leslie's Pictorials by Moses B. Wells, a good number of valuable works by Franklin Blodgett, and additions from the Secretary of State, making the entire number at this date eighteen hundred for the benefit of the public.

Thanking you for the evidence that the library is destined to become a great educator, and for your hearty co-operation in every effort toward progress, I respectfully submit my annual report.

H. N. HAYWARD, Librarian.

F. C. PARKER, Auditor.

Superintendent of School Committee's

REPORT FOR YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1895.

In submitting my report of the schools of Acworth for the past year, it is needless to repeat the suggestions and remarks contained in former reports, unless it be for the purpose of keeping constantly before the mind, the things we sadly neglect, in the hope that sometime we may remedy existing evils and strive to all work together for the good of all our pupils in town.

The conditions for holding schools in the different divisions of the town remain about the same as last year, although new cases of one and two pupils, two and three miles from any school are occurring every year, and need to be adjusted equitably to all parties.

This one item requires no small amount of thought and time on the part of the school board, or whoever may have the schools in charge. What to do for the best interest of all concerned is the problem to solve, and it is no easy task to solve it. Then again, after a reasonable, feasible plan has been suggested, it will not be accepted kindly or any effort made to aid the school board in adjusting these cases. It would relieve the school board ten fold if every school house in town could have a school in it.

I suggested last year that 24 weeks of school for the year was all that could profitably be held in town. I think the past year has proven that my conclusions were good, and that the $300 in addition to amount required by law, is ample to give 24 full weeks schooling. We have given all scholars in town an opportunity to attend school these 24 weeks. Some have not done it and of course show the result in their scholarship. Time only, can show and convince such of their mistake in not being more alive and earnest to seek an education, and availing themselves of all the privileges our schools can give. No suggestions of mine can do this.

I think we have reason to congratulate ourselves upon the faithfulness of the teachers who have had charge of our schools. All of them have done good work, and while these teachers are not perfect, nor expected to be, they are a credit to our town and worthy of no little praise. Good teachers will instruct their scholars in many things not found inside the two covers of the text book, and often strike the keynote that moulds the whole course of the pupils life.

We need to remember that every teacher needs the hearty support of all parents and school boards in their work. It is better for the school, better for the scholar, better for all, to pass their imperfections by unless very extreme, rather than make them the gossip of the neighborhood.

There are a few repairs that are needed in some of the school buildings, and it would seem economical to raise a little money for this special purpose. The five per cent. of school money allowed by law will not keep the buildings in repair from year to year. It never did under the old law and it will not under the new. This matter should receive your cordial attention as citizens of the town. I refer you to the financial report of the school board for the items relating to this part of the school board's work.

Thanking the parents, teachers and scholars for the courtesey shown me, I now close my work as a member of the school board, and leave it to be done by those who have more time to devote to the matters pertaining to town school work and better qualifications.

Respectfully submitted,

F. C. PARKER,

Supt. of Schools.
